

Nanking Falls To Commies

Last Message Gets Through At 2:43 C.S.T.

By The Associated Press
The triumphant Chinese communists resolutely marched unopposed into prostrate Nanking early Sunday morning, China time.

Their entry had been pre-arranged for 7 a.m., Nanking time (5 p.m., Saturday, Central standard time) and they had been massing outside the capital city's west gate since Saturday night. There was nothing to stop them.

Communications with Nanking ceased more than two hours before the scheduled entry.

4:43 A. M. Sunday In Nanking
The last message from Seymour Topping, Associated Press correspondent in Nanking, was received in San Francisco at 12:43 p.m. Pacific Standard Time (2:43 p.m. CST) Saturday. This was 4:43 a.m. Sunday in Nanking.

Forty-five minutes earlier Topping had sent a one-sentence message that all communications were cut but the Nanking operator of the Chinese government radio administration subsequently went ahead and transmitted a feature story Topping had filed earlier.

Nanking's communications go by land line to Shanghai for radio broadcast. Topping reported both this line and the Shanghai telephone were out.

At intervals thereafter Shanghai reported all circuits from Nanking were cut.

Gates Of City Open
There was no reason to doubt, however, that the communists had indeed marched in. The gates of Nanking had stood open since the government garrison fled Saturday morning. The city was the reds' any time they liked.

Topping's roundup story of the war situation, sent at 12:30 a.m. Sunday, Nanking time, follows.

By Seymour Topping
Nanking, 12:30 a.m. Sunday, April 24.—(P)—Thousands of communist troops reached the open gates of this looted, fire-bombed Chinese capital last night and prepared for a triumphant entry this morning.

The 100,000 government troops in and around Nanking had fled southward Saturday morning, pausing only to plow up the railway station and set the waterfront aflame.

Much Looting
Looters quickly went to work. Wild orgies or robbery and killing lasted all day Saturday.

By nightfall an emergency "peace preservation committee" headed by Gen. Ma Chin-Yuan, a former government division commander, had arranged a semblance of order and arranged by radio for the communist entry.

Ma announced shortly before midnight Saturday that the reds had begun crossing from the north bank of the Yangtze river at 6 p.m. to Shang Hsin Ho, three miles from Nanking's west gate.

By the time of his announcement several thousand were over the big river, waiting to enter by daylight.

Ma said he did not think the reds would enter sooner, although the gates stood open and they knew they could walk in whenever they chose.

Ma said he was arranging a formal welcome and that his committee early today was drafting slogans of greeting.

Criticize Johnson's Halting Building Of Giant Carrier

Danville, Ill., April 23.—(P)—The Illinois navy squadrons criticized today Secretary of Defense Johnson's stoppage of construction of the super-carrier, the United States.

The squadron, which is holding its 10th annual reunion here, approved a resolution which asked that a telegram be sent immediately to Johnson criticizing the move. A special meeting of the resolution committee was called by state commandant Walter T. Popjoy, Chicago. The resolution was presented by Harry C. Kuhn of Bellwood, Ill. W. E. Penrose, Quincy, Ill., is chairman of the committee.

The keel of the 65,000 ton aircraft carrier was laid last Monday. Johnson ordered work stopped today. He said in a memorandum to Navy Secretary Sullivan that he acted after studying the views of the joint chiefs of staff and after a conference with President Truman.

The Navy has spent some $56,000,000 thus far on the United States. Its original cost has risen from $124,000,000 to $189,000,000. The cost of the cancellation has not yet been estimated.

Hilly Shapiro, basketball co-captain of City College of New York, also batted .403 last season to lead the baseball team.

British Say Force Will Be Used To Rescue Amethyst

Shanghai, April 23.—(P)—The British consul general tonight strongly implied that force would be used if necessary to rescue the Sloop Amethyst and its 60 remaining personnel from a Chinese communist trap in the Yangtze river.

The communist radio in Peiping meanwhile charged that the four British ships shot up by the reds since Wednesday were fired upon because they joined the nationalists in the war.

A British foreign office spokesman in London indignantly denied this, stating the Amethyst and the others which vainly tried to rescue her "only fired in self-defense and did not fire until fired upon."

This spokesman also said one of the British ships, the 10,000-ton cruiser London, was fired on by nationalists as well as communist artillery. He did not elaborate on this. British sources in Shanghai previously had denied rumors of nationalist firing.

Says Government Cannot Be Run By 'Default Proxies'
Chicago, April 23.—(P)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-M.E.) tonight said the U.S. government cannot be operated by "default proxies."

In an address prepared for the Illinois federation of business and professional women's clubs, Sen. Smith said:

"If you don't like the way things are being run in Washington, you must make the changes through vigorous campaigns and voting. After all, the government is our largest business and greatest investment. We cannot operate it with default proxies."

She said, "What we need today is more of the good business leaders in the political arena in Washington. That is the only real hope of putting more of the sound business principles in Washington."

"It should be done by open, honest, and direct methods such as business leaders becoming candidates for public office."

Midwest Weather Is Cooler; Some Areas Get Snow
Chicago, April 23.—(P)—Much cooler weather spread into the midwest today and snow took a late spring curtain call.

The light snow fell in the Lake Superior region as a turbulent cold front swept upward from Canada into the upper Mississippi valley and the Great Lakes region. There were scattered showers in that area and gusty winds which reached 60 miles an hour in some places.

The mercury tumbled from balmy middle heights to near freezing in Northern Minnesota and into the 40 range as far south as Iowa and Southern Wisconsin. The weather bureau predicted lows tonight of 30 to 35 in Northern Wisconsin and 42 to 46 in Northern Indiana.

Torrential rains swelled the Rio Grande River, dividing Texas from Mexico to near flood stage. The rains Friday night were accompanied by a severe hailstorm which left a 15-mile wide path of crop destruction in the lower Rio Grande valley.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms were reported in the Appalachians and in the western gulf area. There were scattered showers in the Northwest Pacific region. Most of the remainder of the country was fair.

PIANO FLOWN OUT
Nanking, April 23.—(P)—A grand piano, belonging to some unidentified high Chinese official, was among the last items flown out of Nanking in a military transport plane today.

Washington, April 23.—(P)—A terse and crisply-worded order from Defense Secretary Johnson today ended the navy's building of a colossal aircraft carrier whose planes could have engaged in strategic bombing with atomic bombs.

Johnson, after consultation with President Truman and the joint chiefs of staff, directed Navy Secretary Sullivan to order his department to discontinue construction of the 65,000-ton, $189,000,000 carrier "at once."

The keel of the carrier was laid only last Monday in the yards of the Virginia firm which had the contract, the Newport News Shipbuilding Corp.

Johnson's order constituted a victory of the first magnitude for the air force in its long dispute with the navy over what targets naval aircraft should attack in a war.

Reduced to its simplest form, the question was: Should the navy be allowed to build a carrier so big that heavy, small-range bombers could be launched from its flight deck to at-

Bare Spy Nest In Embassy

CONSERVATION DEPT. SCHOOL BEGINS

Lake Villa, Ill., April 23.—(P)—The House un-American activities committee produced tonight documentary evidence and testimony under oath that the Polish embassy here has been a nest for spies.

Twenty-seven documents and the testimony were supplied by Gen. Izydor Rudolf Modelski, a former embassy official whose appointment backfired on Poland's communist regime.

The testimony points to at least two espionage networks operating out of the embassy, one supposedly specializing in atomic secrets, the other branching into Canada and Mexico.

Modelski's Papers In Report
Modelski's papers and what he said are included in an official committee report.

It indicates that the poles were after everything from humdrum economic figures to military secrets. His story told of a Russian spy master pulling the strings. There is no measure of how successful they were.

Polish embassy officials could not be reached for comment.

During the war, Modelski was undersecretary of war for the Polish government exiled in London. He said he collected the documents dealing with spying while he was military attaché at the Washington embassy from May, 1946, to last August.

Cooperated With U.S.
All along, he said, he cooperated with American military intelligence and still is cooperating.

The general related he walked out with the documents when he broke officially with the Red-dominated government in Warsaw.

He turned them over to the committee last February so photographs and translations could be made. He identified the photographic copies and testified March 31 and April 1. At a closed door session of a one-man subcommittee, Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) was the one man.

Some of Modelski's papers were sent in code. Some were stamped "top secret." One said it should be destroyed after it was read.

One top secret document was a set of detailed instructions given Modelski in March, 1946, he said, before he came to this country. He said they dealt with "what fields are to be covered, and which way the spy network must be set up."

Lists 80 Kinds Of Information
It listed 80 kinds of information he was supposed to get, 28 dealing with the Armed Forces and a few with war industries. This was one of many papers bearing the signature of Col. W. Komar, chief of the second division of the general staff of the Polish army.

Later a brigadier general, Komar was identified by Modelski under questioning as a Russian citizen in charge of espionage for the Polish government.

Modelski said the chief of Polish espionage in the United States was Col. Gustav Alef-Bolkawik, a man who was his deputy military attaché in name only. This aide, he said, controlled spy rings in Mexico and Canada.

The general testified that he believes Dr. Ignace Zlotowski, an atomic scientist, ran a network trying to get atomic secrets. He said he is "sure" Zlotowski was spying for the Polish government, adding that his own instructions excluded atomic information. Modelski said the scientist was connected with the embassy.

L. Lewis Given Last Farewell By His Many Friends
Libertyville, Ill., April 23.—(P)—Friends of Lloyd Lewis, historian and newspaperman, bade him farewell today in an open air funeral service led by Marc Connelly, the playwright.

Lewis, 57, died Thursday of a heart seizure in his rambling home, on a wooded bank of the Desplaines river here.

His funeral was held on the grassy expanse outside his door. Hundreds of persons sought out the secluded glade.

ASNE Recommends U.S. Boost Voice Of America Funds

Say Poles Operate Spy Ring In U.S.

Washington, April 23.—(AP)—The American society of newspaper editors recommended today that more funds be provided for the state department's foreign information program, which includes the "Voice of America."

An adequate program, the society declared in a resolution, is "essential to the successful conduct of American foreign policy and vital to the security of the Atlantic community."

The same resolution urged that "all American newspapers and news agencies furnish the foreign information agencies of the State department the news services required to conduct an effective program of foreign information."

The resolution was amended from its original form before its adoption by a voice vote. A committee headed by J. Russell Wiggins of the Washington Post had presented a draft urging that the Associated Press and the United Press furnish news to the State department for use aboard. Wiggins accepted an amendment by Carl M. Saunders of the Jackson, Mich., citizen-patriot, striking out the references to AP and up and substituting "all American newspapers and news agencies."

Give Up Attempt To Take RR Cars From Bendix Plant
South Bend, Ind., April 23.—(P)—An attempt by sheriff's deputies to move four freight cars out of the struck Bendix Aviation Corporation plant was abandoned temporarily tonight because of union resistance.

Two major automobile manufacturers, Ford and General Motors, had obtained an order from Circuit Judge Dan Pyle for removal of the cars. They are loaded with dies used in making automobile parts.

Sheriff Stephen C. Hipsack attempted late today to carry out the order. But members of Local 9, CIO United Automobile Workers, had blocked the Bendix railroad spur with debris and refused to allow a diesel locomotive to pass.

Millard E. Stone, Bendix industrial relations director, said no further effort to move the cars would be made until attorneys for Ford and General Motors carried out their expressed intention of getting an injunction. This appeared unlikely before Monday, with Judge Pyle's court closed for the week end.

Daylight Time Is Two-Timing Folks In Illinois Area
By The Associated Press
Illinois began two-timing its citizens again today (Sunday).

Clocks were advanced an hour in about half the state's 1,200 communities. In the others, the hands stayed where they were.

Chicago and most of the big downstate cities went on fast time. The clocks were turned ahead at 1 a.m.

Residents of the fast time cities thus lost an hour of sleep. But they'll get it back Sept. 25 when daylight savings ends.

Daylight saving will mean an extra hour of late afternoon sunshine for factory and office workers. But it means an extra hour of darkness for farmers' early chores.

That's why so many farmers opposed fast time, and why few predominantly rural communities changed their clocks.

DAYLIGHT IS STANDARD
Daylight, Ind., April 23.—(P)—The residents of the Vanderburgh county community of Daylight said today they would remain on standard time this summer. Daylight is ten miles northeast of Evansville, which remains on standard time.

Government Issues Book About U.S. Working Man
Washington, April 23.—(P)—The government today fired a fact-filled, stirring picture of the American working man to counter Russia's propaganda the U. S. worker is a slave victim of imperialism and Wall Street.

The 142-page book entitled "The Gift of Freedom" is designed to tell the worker in foreign countries "how his American counterpart lives," precisely and without flairs.

It's a product of the labor department's Bureau of Labor Statistics and is based on factual surveys. Prepared at the invitation of the state department, it will be used in publications and radio broadcasts overseas.

AFL Hits T-H Substitute

USE ALL THEIR TIME TO GET RIGHT TIME

Pittsburgh, April 23.—(P)—Allen Demetrius and his wife didn't go to the theater as usual tonight.

The couple moved wearily from room to room in their spacious suburban home. They were preparing for daylight saving time tomorrow and that meant advancing the hands on their clocks.

Demetrius' hobby is collecting rare and antique clocks, which he keeps in perfect order. He counted them tonight—107.

38 Square Miles Of Germany Taken Over By Neighbors
Paris, April 23.—(P)—About 9,600 Germans and 38 square miles of west Germany's frontier territory were taken over by four adjoining allied nations today.

The Netherlands, Belgium, France and Luxembourg occupied various small sectors. Most of the Germans in the affected areas accepted their new status with reluctance, but resignation.

The territorial shifts may be temporary. They are subject to ratification in any peace treaty which is eventually made for Germany. Belgium and Luxembourg gave de jure the transfer of several villages, but have not renounced rights to them.

The United States and Britain concurred in the agreement for annexation, announced March 26.

The Netherlands received the biggest chunk of territory, 27 square miles occupied by 9,100 Germans.

World Peace Meet Cheers Communist Victories In China
Paris, April 23.—(P)—The loudest cheers of the four-day-old world peace congress were given today at the announcement of a Communist war victory in China.

Two minutes of wild cheering greeted the statement of the day's chairman, J. G. Crowther, a British historian, that "we have just learned that the Democratic Chinese forces have entirely liberated Nanking."

The delegates sat in stunned silence earlier when one speaker criticized "proletarian bureaucrats" and mixed boos with catcalls when an American, Ohio. John Rogge, said Russia lacks political freedom.

They got their first shock when Harvey Moore, a British lawyer, told them they could not be for war and peace at the same time and that:

"Proletarian bureaucrats as well as Bourgeois bureaucrats will have to learn that people want freedom of the individual, freedom of speech, freedom of elections and freedom to change their government if they want to."

Candy Rationing Ended In Britain
London, April 23.—(P)—Candy comes off the ration tomorrow after seven dreary years. This was big news among the youngsters of Britain today.

A large portion of the sweet shops will be open tomorrow and dealers generally were fairly sure they will be able to take care of the initial rush.

A manufacturer estimated there are 7,000,000 British children of lollipop age who have never bought an unrationed piece of candy.

SENATOR FLANDERS' IMPRACTICAL PROPOSAL COULD EASILY RUIN UN

Senator Flanders of Vermont has proposed two unusual riders to the ratification of the North Atlantic Treaty. His motives are not suspect, for there is nothing in his voting record to indicate that he would wish to kill the pact. Yet he would have the pact members form a sort of UN within the UN. He also suggests a leaflet "bombardment" of Russia to bring about peace.

Mr. Flanders' "little United Nations" would be formed by the 12 members of the alliance inside the UN framework. It would abolish or drastically modify the veto power against aggression. And it would consider important matters outside the treaty's scope which affect the UN as a whole.

Something certainly needs to be done about the veto. Its abuse by Russia has made the organization an extremely lame duck, if not a dead one. But it is hard to see how this proposal would be of much benefit.

In the first place the veto power remains in the UN Charter. The proposed smaller group apparently would have to abide by the Charter in order to be a part of the UN. Yet it would be operating contrary to a basic Charter rule.

Any attempt to determine aggression and act against it, while excluding both Russia and the veto power, would be wholly without authority under the present setup. The only way the group might function would be as a competing organization. For, however wrong the veto may be, the 12-nation organization could not act as the UN subsidiary unless it played according to UN rules.

The only practical use that we can see for such an organization would be a quick action in case Russia attacked a UN member which is not a signatory of the North Atlantic Treaty—Sweden or Turkey or Iran, perhaps.

Such action would certainly be desirable. The question is whether it would be desirable enough to excuse wrecking the UN. For that is undoubtedly what would happen. The very formation of a "little UN" would be a severe blow to the world organization, whether or not there was danger of attacking on a non-treaty member.

Russia has very nearly destroyed the UN's peace-keeping effectiveness by overworking one of the organization's rules. But could 12 nations restore that effectiveness by assuming the Security Council's function while ignoring that rule? It doesn't seem likely.

Soviet charges that the North Atlantic Treaty is out to destroy the UN have been unimpressive. But those charges might get more attention if the treaty members went on from their regional security agreement, which the Charter permits, to become a policy-making and policy-enforcing arm of the UN, which the Charter did not foresee or permit.

The airborne peace offensive that Senator Flanders suggests does not seem very feasible, either. A shower of pamphlets might persuade a good many Russians that the United States wants peace. But it would be like appealing to a Gulliver bound fast and guarded day and night, to get up. It would not change the policy of the Russians, rulers, who tell their subjects what to think and believe and how to act.

A leaflet bombardment would mean that foreign planes would be flying over Russian territory without permission. Perhaps the pilots would be refugees from Russian-dominated countries as Mr. Flanders hopefully suggests. But the leaflets and planes would still be American. And the expedition might lead to trouble of alarming and far-reaching consequences.

ACHESON SETS A NEGATIVE, BUT DEFINITE POLICY ON CHINA AID

As the Nationalist cause in China moves swiftly toward total defeat, Secretary of State Acheson is being criticized in the Senate for what one member called the Administration's "fumbling and bumbling China policy." The immediate cause of criticism was a month-old letter to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, recently released, in which the secretary gave his views on a proposed bill to lend the Nationalists $1,500,000,000.

Probably the criticism is water over the dam. But it may bring a fuller explanation of what was and was not done for China, and why. It may even disclose a more unified course for future action.

Senator Bridges has accused Mr. Acheson of "what might be called sabotage of the valiant attempt of the Chinese Nationalists to keep at least a part of China free." He said the secretary's letter "could hardly harm the Free Chinese more if he were to dispatch American divisions to fight with the Chinese Communists."

The letter had recalled the $2,000,000,000 already given China since the end of World War II. It pointed out the painfully obvious fact that the Communists had the military capability of conquering South China eventually, and that the Nationalists did not have the military capability to stop them.

Mr. Acheson probably chose that word "capability" with care. The Nationalists did not seem to lack manpower. And, as the secretary pointed out, "the Chinese government forces have lost no battles during the past year because of lack of equipment." What was clearly lacking was leadership, unity, efficiency and good morale.

The China aid bill had proposed that, in return for the loan, this government should supervise our military aid, China's tax administration, and customs collection in Chinese ports. The customs revenue would be used to help pay back the loan. Mr. Acheson's reply was that it would rouse suspicion and resentment among the Chinese people, and perhaps be interpreted as an invasion of China's sovereignty.

All this may represent a negative and belated policy. And it can be interpreted in two ways, depending on one's political sympathies. One view might be that the United States government did all it could and, recognizing the inevitable, could do no more. Or it could be said that the government abandoned China to communism after weakening the Nationalists by urging a coalition regime.

But some things appear certain. The Chiang government used American aid unwisely and in some cases, it appears, dishonestly. Its armies could not or would not fight well. Millions of dollars' worth of equipment was abandoned to the Red forces almost without a struggle.

Whether this represents the "valiant attempts of the Chinese Nationalists" is again a matter of opinion. Whether anything could have been done to assure a Nationalist victory without dangerously compromising this country's position is something that will never be known. We don't recall any proposals from either side that promised such a guarantee, so perhaps none was possible.

For the present, the Acheson letter and the secretary's refusal to increase Chinese aid seem to reveal a new and definite policy of assistance. Both statements give notice that the United States can do only so much, and that that so much is just about used up. It appears that from now on we will only help those who help themselves.

Rev. Hulan, Family Will Be Honored At Farewell Party

The Rev. and Mrs. Roy S. Hulan and family will be guests of honor at a farewell reception to be given at Central Christian church Tuesday, April 26, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. All members of the church and Jacksonville friends of the Hulan family are cordially invited to attend.

Plans for the affair have been completed by the following reception committee: Mr. and Mrs. Francis Plouer, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hamer, Mrs. Gertrude Reynolds and Mrs. Charles Nichols.

Music will be furnished throughout the evening by Mrs. Leola Hutchinson, pianist, and Miss Gertrude Curtis, violinist. Twenty young ladies of the church will assist in serving refreshments in the dining room.

Rev. Hulan completed eight years of valuable service to Central Christian church in April. He has also been very active in local civic affairs. The Hulan family will leave Jacksonville the first week in May for Hopkinsville, Kentucky, where Rev. Hulan has accepted the pastorate of the Ninth Street Christian church.

Local Rifle Squad Bests Springfield In Match Friday

The Abe Lincoln Rifle club of Springfield was defeated by the Jacksonville Rifle club in a return match held on the local Washington school range Friday evening. The score was 1839 to 1756.

The Abe Lincoln team was led by T. R. Randall with a score of 365, followed by George A. Cline, 360, J. R. Batterson 355, Robert M. Bishop 352 and J. G. Potts 324. The local club was led by Alvin Marshall with 374, followed by two junior shooters who compete in adult matches, Fred Engelbach, Jr., 372, and Lawrence Crawford, 369. Friedrich Engelbach 366 and John Marshall 358 completed the Jacksonville team.

Teams are composed of an unlimited number of shooters, five high scores to count for the team score. Nearly all of the shooting is done with heavy match rifles, mostly Winchester 52, and Remington 37. Most of the rifles are scope sighted, Fecker Lyman and Unertl scopes predominating, with an occasional Weaver or other make. Ammunition of .22 long rifle is used exclusively in these matches.

Visitors and visiting shooters are always welcome to attend and participate in the weekly Friday evening matches.

Annual Clean-Up Days At Virginia On April 26, 27

Virginia—The annual clean-up days, sponsored by the Virginia Woman's club, assisted by the city officials, will be held on April 26 and 27. All people living west of Main street are asked to have all trash collected and carried to the curb on Monday, so that the city truck can pick it up on Tuesday.

People living east of Main street are to collect their rubbish on Tuesday for collection by the truck on Wednesday.

All cans, etc., are to be put in boxes or large containers of some kind.

The executive board of the Cass county Home Bureau invited members of the executive boards of Mason, Menard, Sangamon, Morgan and Schuyler-Brown counties to attend a workshop conducted at the local Presbyterian church.

Lunch was served by ladies of the church. The principal speakers for the occasion included Miss Gertrude Kaiser of the University extension work and Mrs. Emmett Dunham of Berwick, director of the west central district.

Home Bureau Unit Meets In Glasgow

Glasgow—The Glasgow unit of the Morgan-Scott Home Bureau met Thursday afternoon, April 21 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Adams.

The major project was "Style and Design for the Figure" given by Mrs. Oscar Yates. The lesson on "Hardwood Floor Finishes" was presented by Mrs. Clarence Adams. Two guests, Mrs. Woodson and Mrs. Atchison of Winchester, were present.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Orval Evans May 19.

Buy Barber Shop
J. H. Edwards of Glasgow, who recently sold his barber shop in Lombard, has purchased the Kelley barber shop in Winchester, assuming his work there Friday. Mr. Kelley, one of Winchester's veteran barbers, has retired due to ill health.

How Loretta Sell Became Hildegard

By Hal Boyle
New York—At 16, Hildegard Loretta Sell played the piano in a silent movie house in Milwaukee.

She was a plump, earnest, religious German girl, who hoped for something better.

Today, 27 years later, Hildegard is a svelte internationally known supper club entertainer who has perhaps kissed more bald pates in public than any lady in history.

She has dropped the Loretta Sell from her name. But success hasn't made her lose the best qualities of Loretta Sell. She is still earnest, religious—and hoping for something better.

She retains a girlhood characteristic that most artists have who stay at the top in their field, an insatiable desire for self-progress.

"I still take piano lessons, because the piano is my life," she said.

"I have always wanted to play wonderfully well. Right now I'm doing the classics. I'm learning a concerto. I hope to be able to do it by 1951 with the San Francisco orchestra. They've invited me."

Devoting her spare time for two and a half years to learn a 42-page concerto perfectly doesn't seem like too much struggle to her. Struggle has made her a perfectionist.

She told me something of her life and hard times as we sat in the living room of her luxurious seven-room suite at the Plaza hotel. It is the kind of suite she used to see flash on the movie screen in the days when she thumped out back ground music.

High-Priced Entertainment
Hildegard became one of the highest-priced supper club and radio entertainers after a dreary and low-paid apprenticeship. She worked in vaudeville, song-plugging, and a girl band. She tramped in London and Paris night spots.

The woman who helped work out her successful formula of wit, flamboyance, sentimentality—and special lighting effects—is Anna Sosenko, one of the shrewdest managers in show business.

"There was a time in Paris when I was broke," said Hildegard, "and I would have given anything for $99 to pay my passage home. Half of me said give up, but half of me said stay. And I guess the half that wanted me to stay and keep on trying was really three quarters."

Twice a night she descends to the Plaza's Persian room, where she has been starred for 11 years.

Andrew Woods, Sr. Dies Here Friday; Services Monday

Andrew J. Woods, Sr., 465 South East street, passed away Friday at 11:30 p. m. at Our Saviour's hospital, following an extended illness.

A native of Versailles, Mr. Woods was born on Nov. 3, 1874, the son of James and Agnes Taylor Woods. He was united in marriage with Nellie Mae Madden on May 28, 1906 at Mt. Sterling.

She survives, together with the following children: Mrs. Irma Wilson of Chapin, and Mrs. Viola Reinal, Mrs. Rose Meneses, Mrs. Barbara Stoval, Mrs. Kathryn McNeese, James, Andrew, Jr., Virgil and Louise Woods all of Jacksonville.

Also surviving are 14 grandchildren and two brothers, Mark of Versailles and George of Beards-town.

Mr. Woods was preceded in death by four brothers and four sisters.

The body is at the Williamson Funeral Home, where services will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m.

Rev. C. Frank Janzen will officiate. Burial will be in the Chapin cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

New K-F "Traveler" Is Two Car s In One

SOMETHING NEW in the automobile industry is the "Traveler," a lower-priced '49 multi-purpose sedan introduced by Kaiser-Fraser dealers. To all appearances it is a conventional four-door model. But the rear seat cushions fold away and the entire back opens to provide access to more than 130 cubic feet of cargo space. When not in use as a carry-all, the "Traveler" is a deluxe, six-passenger family sedan.

Ashland Club To Hold Flower Show Tuesday

Ashland—The annual spring flower show sponsored by the garden committee of the Ashland Woman's club will be held in the library basement Tuesday, April 26, from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

This is to be a flower exhibit and also an exhibit of artistic table arrangement. The exhibits are to be at the library by 10 a.m. Tuesday. Exhibits will not be judged. They are for display only.

Mrs. Ralph Newell, chairman of the garden committee, will be leader for the afternoon's program. The musical part of the program will be furnished by the students from the Pleasant Plains high school, with Miss Marilyn Hayes directing.

The flower show will begin at 3:30 p.m. The flower show will be held in the evening from 7:30 to 9 p.m. The public is invited.

At the business meeting in the afternoon the officers for the ensuing year will be elected and all committee chairmen who have not given their yearly reports will do so at this meeting.

Hostesses for the social hour will be Mrs. L. E. Riley, Mrs. J. J. Wolaver, Mrs. E. J. Hewitt, Mrs. Walter Adkins, Mrs. Ray Davin, Mrs. J. J. Leahy, and the Misses Orpha Watts and Julia Hewitt.

Communists Reap Profit From Dutch-Indonesian Warfare

By WALTER BRIGGS
Batavia, Java — (NEA)—Holland unwittingly played into Communist hands by renewing military action in these rich islands, many neutral observers believe.

Prior to the second Dutch "police action," the Indonesian Republic held about 30,000 Communists—most of the known Reds in the Indies—in work camps. When the Dutch struck on Dec. 19 the Republicans, although they bitterly hate Communism, released these Communists to fight alongside the Republican Army against the Dutch.

Meanwhile, Communist agitators are busy among the people. They are finding fertile soil for the seeds of Communism in the human suffering accompanying this war. Food is short, and Dutch troops, seeking to root out guerrillas, often burn villages and kill innocent persons who get in their way.

Several high Dutch officials told this correspondent that Communism had gained from the "police action"—but only temporarily. In the long run, these officials claim, their military adventures strike at Communism. Once Holland has restored law and order to Indonesia, they contend, the Communists can be dealt with easily.

But Republican officials are worried about the Communists. "They are gaining strength all the time," one prominent Republican said. "Soon they may be too powerful for us to control."

DUTCH TROOPS IN JAVA: Have they opened the way for the Communists?

The Communists revolted against the Republicans can do that," one observer said. "They know who the oil and other raw materials which come from here."

Dutch militarism in Indonesia has helped Communism in still another way, observers believe. By preferring force to peaceful negotiation, the Dutch have furnished Russia with potent ammunition for its propaganda campaign in Southwest Asia against the "western imperialists."

If this occurs, the western democracies will lose an important base, some Americans are afraid that, as a result of the Dutch use of force, the islands may slip into chaos, with the Communists eventually gaining control.

The Republic, surprising the Dutch with their strength, put down the Reds within a few weeks.

The speed with which the Republic met the threat was noteworthy in the light of the long, hard struggle which the Burma Government and the British in Malaya are forced to wage to suppress fewer Communists than in Indonesia.

Few observers believe that the Dutch can eliminate the Reds. "Only

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D., Ill.), second from right, shows two of his colleagues the need for slum clearance by taking them on a personal tour of alley shanties within sight of the Capitol. With him are Senators Theodore Green (D., R. I.), left, and Wayne Morse (R., Ore.). In one place they found 12 persons sharing one small bedroom. Senator Douglas is pushing the $1,500,000 slum clearance measure of the pending congressional housing bill.

Emma Brockhouse Of Virginia Dies Friday Evening

Virginia — Mrs. Emma Crone Brockhouse, widow of the late Dietrick Brockhouse, prominent farmer in the Virginia community, died Friday at 7:45 p.m. at her home in Virginia, at the age of 82 years.

A lifelong resident of Cass county, Mrs. Brockhouse was born at Arenzville on July 3, 1866, the daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Takemeyer Crone.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. L. L. Dinwiddie, a granddaughter, Mrs. John Knight, and a great grandson, Jeffrey Knight, all of Virginia.

The body was taken to the Massie Funeral Home in Virginia and later returned to the family residence.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Monday at 2:30 p.m., with the Rev. T. Chandler Burton and the Rev. W. S. Neely of Canon City, Colo., officiating.

Burial will be in Walnut Ridge cemetery at Virginia.

E. College House Sells For $4,800

A five room modern house at 747 East College avenue, belonging to the estate of the late Ella C. Ludwig, was sold at public auction at the Morgan county courthouse Saturday morning.

The house is located on a lot 55 by 200 feet.

The sale was held by Mary L. Hempel, administrator of the estate of Ella C. Ludwig.

Bellatti, Arnold & Fay were attorneys for the administrator. Middendorf Brothers were the auctioneers.

CHARLES MCCONNELL SERVICES MONDAY

Carrollton—Funeral services will be held Monday in St. Louis for Charles McConnell, a former Greene county resident, who died Wednesday in St. Louis. McConnell is a brother of Delbert McConnell, county supervisor, and the son of Oscar McConnell, of this city and Mrs. Ansell of Kampsville. He is also survived by his wife.

Mound Woman's Club Pays Tribute To Late President

At its meeting held with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stewart at their home at 238 East Vandavia road, the Mound Woman's club paid special tribute to its late president, Mrs. Phoebe Thomason. The tribute was rendered in the form of resolutions of respect, read by Augusta Hempel, and a poem in Mrs. Thomason's honor written by Edith Mason.

Husbands of members attended the meeting as special guests of Mr. Stewart. Other guests were Mrs. Kendall Litchfield and Miss Nina Richards.

During the business session which was presided over by Mrs. Anna Coultas a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Wilbur Williams, Mrs. Louis Perbix and Mrs. Ethel Carter was appointed.

Members responded to roll call by relating the history of the piece of antique china or glass which they

'Glass Menagerie' To Be Presented At MacMurray

"The Glass Menagerie," enchanting drama by Tennessee Williams which ran for a year and a half in New York and has been the talk of theater-goers ever since its opening, will be presented by the MacMurray College Little Theater Thursday and Friday, April 28 and 29, at 8:15 p.m.

The cast is composed of Esther Wilding of Jacksonville, MacMurray sophomore; two Illinois College students, Al Hudson of White Hall and Jim O'Connor of Griggsville, and Marilyn Miles of Milwaukee, sophomore at MacMurray. Howard Hansen, associate professor of drama and speech, will direct the play.

Miss Wilding will take the part of Amanda Wingfield, the fading mother who is clinging frantically to a magnolia scented past when she had as many as 17 gentlemen callers from the Mississippi delta on a Sunday afternoon, but who now solicits magazine subscriptions by telephone and is desperately afraid her daughter will be an old maid. This is the role made famous by the late Laurette Taylor.

But the daughter, Laura (played by Miss Miles), attracts no gentlemen callers, for she is crippled and painfully shy, as fragile as her collection of glass animals. Tom, Amanda's poetry-minded son who is chained to a warehouse job, will be portrayed by Al Hudson, and Jim O'Connor will take the part of the one gentleman caller who ever appears but who is engaged to another girl.

Public Invited To Visit State Hospital Sunday

An invitation has been extended to the public to visit the Jacksonville State Hospital on Sunday afternoon, when open house will be held as part of a nation-wide observance of National Mental Health Week.

The program will begin at 1:30 p.m. with a concert by the State Hospital band, under the direction of Bernard Strongman. A short talk will be given by Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland. Dr. Wendell Dysinger will deliver the main address.

The ceremonies will take place in the gymnasium, where exhibits depicting the work of the various hospital departments will be on display. Guides will be on hand to conduct the public on a tour of the hospital.

In Dad's Footsteps

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., 35, son of the late president, has agreed to become a candidate for the congressional post left vacant by the death of Rep. Sol Bloom. He will be supported by both the Democratic and Liberal Parties of the 20th New York district (West Side Manhattan). No date has been set for the special election.

Blueprint for Beauty: Lip Service for Brides

Lipstick stains such as those photographed on laced hankie which is background for this layout (above) keeps lipstick from staining linens—or the cheek of the groom (left).

BY ALICE HART
NEA Staff Writer

A good gift for a bride to give herself is a clear cosmetic liquid which will keep imprints of her rouged lips off the mouths and cheeks of her fervent well-wishers. The transparent stuff which confines lipstick color to the bride's lips will also keep her trousseau handkerchiefs, towels and napkins safe from damaging stains. Laundry owners claim lipstick stains are damaging. They require so much extra rubbing for removal that the life span of lipstick-stained linens is considerably shortened, these laundrymen say. The liquid lipstick protector which keeps rouge from straying is simple to use. It is coated over rouge after a mouth is made up, and blotted dry by an applicator brush which comes with the bottle of liquid protector.

Jeep Puts 'View' Into U. S. Voice To Sell America's Story to World

Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen inspects one of 65 jeeps which will carry motion picture projectors, radio, recording and public address equipment to the far corners of the globe.

The Notre Dame football team will face Indiana, Washington, Purdue, Tulane, Navy, Michigan State, North Carolina, Iowa, Southern California and Southern Methodist in 1949.

The 1949 National collegiate boxing tournament at Michigan State was the twelfth since 1932.

The winning players' shares in the 1948 World Series, which saw each Cleveland Indian collect $6,772.05, set a new record.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—The State Department will soon have 65 potent packages of propaganda in action selling the story of America, in pictures, to more than 100,000,000 people around the world.

The packages are jeeps loaded with every kind of picture projector ever dreamed up, plus elaborate radio and recording equipment and a complete public address system. The idea is to turn the Voice of America into the "View of America" and take it to the people in every far corner of the globe.

A congressional committee which toured Europe in 1947 to see how effective the Voice and other propaganda efforts of the State Department were, discovered that only a handful of the people were being reached with the story. Audiences were mostly limited to those who owned radios and could read. The great mass of the people, including many workers and farmers, just weren't getting America's side of the argument in the cold war.

The picture- and movie-laden jeep is the State Department's answer to this problem. Movies and still pictures, it has been discovered, are excellent mediums for mass education. And when they are brought right to backyards, where it requires only a minimum effort to see them, they're twice as effective.

In addition to telling the story of democracy with movies and slides, the jeep is equipped with powerful short wave radio for picking up actual Voice of America broadcasts. The public address system lets any sized audience in on the programs, giving millions a chance to hear them who wouldn't have been able to otherwise. Transcribed music and educational programs can also be provided for great numbers of people in this way.

Another use for the unit is to record the propaganda programs and speeches of the other countries for later study and analysis.

One or two men will travel with each jeep as it takes its story to the far reaches, depending upon how far from the home base it must go. It is equipped with air mattresses, camping equipment, cooking gear, large drinking-water cans and an 80-gallon gas tank. This permits operators to camp out when no other lodging is available.

An operator of one of these compact units must be a competent camera technician, sound man, radio engineer, public relations expert and master of ceremonies.

Films will not be shown simply for entertainment. The film library on each jeep will consist of travelogues, education films, shorts showing America's manufacturing plants and farms, and newsreels. Slides for presenting various types of lectures are also part of the equipment. The sound, accompanying all the slides and movies, will be translated into the native language.

The State Department hopes to have all 65 of these units in operation by the middle of July. They will be operating in 44 different countries on every continent. Each one costs approximately $4500, including the equipment.

Dr. Charles Strub, general manager of Santa Anita racetrack, was a hard-hitting second baseman on the 1902 Santa Clara baseball team.

Only three players ever have won the American League batting championship four times or more—Ty Cobb, Harry Heilmann and Ted Williams.

The University of Mississippi's baseball squad boasts only one man who batted over .300 in 1948—Outfielder Bobby Wilson, who hit .351.

ROGER THE LODGER
By Elizabeth R. Roberts

XXX
"DON'T cry, Mom," George said. "I'm all right. I'll tell you all about it."

Molly was reaching for her be-grimed son—dirt, coal dust, matted hair and all—but Major inter-vened.

"You'll tell nothing until you've had a bath," Major said. "Who's your friend?"

George introduced Hank, his roommate from school.

"Downstairs, you two, to the laundry," Major said. Turning to me, he asked what chance there was of borrowing some of Bill's clothes and letting the boys sleep in his room.

I hustled upstairs; Major and the boys hustled down; Molly took off for the kitchen.

Scrubbed pink, with wet hair clinging to their heads, dressed in clean clothes, they sat down to eat the mound of food Molly had whipped up. When they finished, they told their story.

"You knew I didn't want to go back to school, Dad," George be-gan.

Major nodded.

"Well, Hank and I fixed it up to run away. Shucks, if we could get someplace where we weren't known, we could elicit."

"Oh," Molly gasped, "so that's it!"

"You knew very good and well at Christmas, Mom, I wanted to join up," George put the blame on her. "Anyway, Hank and I sold off a few things we didn't need and added that to our Christ-mas money and bought the clothes we had on."

In reply to Molly's exclamation, he said that the clothes were new when they started out. "And," he continued, "we struck out for a southern route, because they're warmer. We hitchhiked quite a few rides, got as far as South Caro-lina, but it was awful slow going. We weren't going to have enough money to eat on, at that rate. One of the hobos told us we ought to ride the freights."

"Hobos... Freights!" Molly gasped.

"SURE, Mom. They're fun. We couldn't find any recruiting officer who'd accept us. We had to keep going. We thought maybe down South they'd take us. We got to Macon and the MP's picked us up. Thought we were deserters. ... See," he added proudly, "we look old enough. ... But they let us go and then the cops stepped in. Looked like the chain gang for us. ... Oh, boy!" he reflected.

"Would a-been, too," Hank sup-plied, "if we hadn't stopped off at that jungle the night before."

George patted his pocket. "This saved our hides," he said impor-tantly.

"What?" Major asked.

"I'm coming to that," George nodded wisely. "First, I'll finish my story." Food and clean clothes had restored his confidence. "The cops took us up to court."

"Runs in your family," Robbie commented.

George winked at him. "The judge asked could we prove we weren't vagrants—that, we had a place to go. We proved it," George said, tapping his pocket. "He let us off, but we had to be out of town in an hour. The first train out was hauling manure—"

Molly shrieked.

"Lucky, too. It gets cold in Georgia. We burrowed into that nice warm, soft bed, and baby, did we sleep!"

While he dwelt privately on the charms of a nice, warm, soft bed, Hank said, "That car was headed for Denver. We rode her the whole way."

"With nothing to eat?" Molly exclaimed.

"Sure, we ate," George said. "Every time the train stopped, we sneaked out and loaded up with a sack of hamburgers. We ate but good."

"Those filthy hands—" Molly began.

"Go on. Then what?" Major interrupted her, recalling George from his loving memory of the ride.

"Hopped a freight out that night. Not so good. This'n hauled coal. Awful hard."

"Dirty!" Molly exclaimed.

"Not as dirty as the other stuff, Mom," George corrected her, "nor as warm," he added loyally. "And now, Dad, before we get to the reprisals, giff a look."

George reached into his pocket and hauled forth a piece of crum-pled and well-worn newspaper. He pressed it out on his knee be-fore handing it over to his father.

We were all breathing down Major's neck as he read the large black headline:

ARMY MAJOR SENTENCED TO THREE DAYS IN LOCAL JAIL FOR SPEEDING.

"Where'd you get this?" Major demanded, hastily crumpling the paper back into a ball.

"A friend."

"I said where?" He glanced suspiciously at Molly, but she was as interested in George's answer as he was.

"Oh... This is what made it lucky we stopped that night in the jungle," George said, apparently relishing keeping his father's curi-osity unsatisfied, for he looked around the circle to make sure he had our attention, and flicked his chops as though he found the go-ing good. "A 'bo from up this of way had a newspaper on him and he let us look at it. He's the one who identified us to the judge the next day."

"Haddn't a-been for him," Hank broke in excitedly, "we'd a-been wearing chains."

Well, it was nice, as my friend had said, to have settled, mature, responsible people living at our house. ... George fouled up the washing machine by attempting to clean his going-away-from-school clothes (all of the dirt from the long journey, plus soap and hand water amalgamated into a hard scum which had to be scraped out of the tub with a putty knife); but he was useful, for Roger re-turned to town and found no room at the Inn.

J.H.S. To Hold Registration Next Tuesday

Registration for eighth grade graduates who plan to attend Jack-sonville high school next year will be held at the high school Tuesday, April 26, at 7:45 p.m. Preceding the registration, a brief program will be presented in the auditorium by the high school band, under the direc-tion of James Welch and the Glee club, under the direction of Miss Lena Mae Hopper.

The purpose of the meeting is to explain the high school course of study to the students and their par-ents and to register them for next year. Following the general meeting, in the auditorium, teachers will be in the class rooms and will confer with students and parents individ-ually.

Past experience has shown that many failures in high school are caused by students enrolling in courses not suited to their need and interests. It is hoped that this method of registration will help to get students started on a successful high school career.

All eighth grade students who in-tend to come to Jacksonville high school next year should attend this meeting. Parents are urged to ac-company the students.

CARROLLTON MAN HURT IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

Carrollton—Stanley Tribble, who is employed in the meat department of the local Kroger grocery store, suffered a hand injury Thursday evening when the car which he was driving left the pavement on route 67 as Tribble was enroute to Car-rollton from White Hall. X-rays of the injured hand were taken Friday in the Boyd Memorial hospital.

The average person eats between 1454 and 1474 pounds of food in a year.

HOW WE DO IT

The rear wheels of your car rest on the traction rolls, which act as a treadmill. As your engine transmits horse-power to the rolls, it is ab-sorbed and measured. The road load set up on the rolls by the operator is changed at will to duplicate every possible road driving condition, and your car's reaction to these road driving demands deter-mines the adjustments necessary to insure peak performance.

It's Spring, and Boatmen Everywhere Are Coming Out from Beneath Canvas

Irma Hansen removes the canvas from her boat at Long Island's Nassau Boat Yard. Wiping and dusting all surfaces isn't the most glamorous job. Then it's the brush off. Sanding and scraping the bottom prepares it for a good coat of paint. Special vinylast bottom paints keep the bottom free from fouling. And a joyful Miss Hansen is off.

New York (—NEA)—It's spring, and boatmen everywhere are coming out from beneath canvas to put craft in trim.
To some it's the most laborious job around, but to most it's as much fun as sailing.
Whether you own a sloop or a bridge deck cruiser, set down a complete check list of things to be done, indoors and out. Then you'll know where you're heading.
After rolling up and stowing the canvas, inspect the hull for leaks. Check for dry rot where ventilation is limited, examine rudder gudgeons, pintles, water outlets and intakes. Inspect garboard seams and plank-buttocks. Apply seam composition where needed.
Do the big paint job first, the secondary later. With a variety of new paints on the market, it shouldn't be any trouble to find the quality and colors needed for the hull, bottom deck, spars, topsides, keel and metal fittings. The development of special vinylast finishes for bottoms is a safeguard against fouling. Special finishes for metals act as a preventative against corrosion.
Here are several requirements in the way of equipment for fitting out your skiff: sand or garret paper, a good sanding block, turpentine, cotton waste, a brush for varnishing, a three-inch brush for the topsides and a three-and-a-half-inch one for the bottom.
Sanding and scraping the bottom prepares it for a fine coat of paint. Do not paint in damp, humid or windy weather. Wipe the surfaces with turpentine before painting or varnishing. Keep the brushes soft by soaking them in linseed oil or turpentine.
Inspect the rigging and spars. Replace all pins, bolts, pulled splices, damaged servings and ruptured tangs. Check said tracks, replace rigging that shows excessive corrosion. Unlay running riggings, replace rotten or frayed rope.
The boatmen have plenty to do, but it's part of a great sport for the bulk of them.
And when the others think of the wonderful boating days ahead, the task is as painless as a picnic.

Alumni Of J.H.S. Commercial Club Holds Banquet

James Hurley of Decatur was the guest speaker at the annual alumni banquet of the Jacksonville High School Commercial club, held in the banquet room of the Dunlap hotel Friday evening. Mr. Hurley, office manager of the A. E. Staley company of Decatur, has been active in the National Office Management association and in the development of a broad program of training for pupils of the Decatur senior high school.

Mr. Hurley spoke on the subject "The Umbrella of Success." He discussed the factors which lead to satisfaction and progress in office and secretarial work.

The program and decorations were in keeping with the general theme, "Though April Showers May Come Your Way."

The program included: Invocation by Dr. D. R. Blodgett, superintendent of city schools; welcome, Marjorie Phillips, president of the club; response for alumni, Theresa Boucher, past president; group singing of "April Showers"; quartette, "My Hero," Patsy Ore, Doris Fitzsimmons, Margie Phillips, Betty Stocker; piano solo, Martha Brasel; group singing of "Into Each Life Some Rain Must Fall"; talk, "Cloudy Days in School," Jo Merriman; group singing of "Powder Your Face with Sunshine"; talk, "Sunshiny Days in School," Ilene Talbott; reading, "Number Please," Betty Mason; talk, "The Umbrella of Success," J. W. Hurley of Decatur, Ill.; remarks, "Wishing You Sunshine," John Agger, principal of high school; and group singing of "April Showers." Miss Violet Davis acted as toastmistress and Miss Martha Brasel accompanied the singing on the piano.

Patsy Ore was song leader. More than 70 members and alumni were present.

Miss Mildred George is sponsor of the club. The following committees were in charge of the banquet and program:

Invitation committee: Doris Fitzsimmons, Catherine Fernandes, Doris Fearnough.

Program committee: Violet Davis, Betty Stocker, Mary Lee Spreen. Decoration committee: Martha Brasel, Patsy Combs, Ilene Talbott.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, April 23.—(P)—Hogs were nominally steady today at the lowest price level since removal of OPA ceilings in 1946. The range was from $17.50 to $18.50. Cattle and sheep also held steady.

With light weights piling the drop, hogs fell as much as $2.00 this week. Heavier types and sows continued their losses to around 50 cents. Wholesale pork moved lower. More important, traders said, as a price influence on hogs was the slow trade in wholesale meat channels.

Vealers took the hardest pounding for the week in a universally lower cattle section. Slow movement of beef in wholesale channels caused buyers to back away from live animals. Top for the week was $28.25 for one load of choice beef.

Fat lambs closed about steady while fat sheep ended around $1.00 lower than last Saturday.

New York Stock Market

New York, April 23.—(P)—The stock market pulled ahead on a broad front today.

Gains of fractions of a point or more appeared in almost every group; and a few highs for the year were posted. The improvement cut into losses of 1 to 3 points in Thursday's trading, when the market took one of the sharpest breaks of the year.

A fair amount of business was done with the total swollen by numerous blocks of 1,000 shares or more which changed hands at the opening. Turnover was at a rate of around 450,000 shares for the two-hour session.

Richfield Oil, a favorite yesterday when gains and losses were well mixed, reached a new high for the year with a fractional gain. At one time the price was up more than a point.

United Corp. preferred moved up around a point following court denial of an application to halt the company's plan to retire the stock on April 30.

Others ahead included: American Telephone, General Electric, Sears Roebuck, General Motors, and U. S. Steel.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly.

GRAINS IRREGULAR: LARD FUTURES IN SHARP ADVANCE

Chicago, April 23.—(P)—Grains did little of anything on the Board of Trade today, lard providing most of the market's interest. Futures of this commodity made fairly sharp gains, following an expanded demand at higher prices for loose lard.

Grains moved irregularly over most of the session, but weakened toward the close. Continued heavy receipts of cash corn and oats served to depress futures of those grains. The government buying price for wheat was unchanged from yesterday.

Strength in lard was based, traders said, on reports of a good export demand. The United Kingdom has bought fairly large quantities of this product over the past few weeks and according to trade reports will be in the market for more for some time to come.

Wheat closed 1-1/4 lower, May $2.23-1/4, corn was 1/2 higher, May $1.33-1/4, oats were 1-1/2 lower, May 67-1/2, rye was 1 to 3 cents lower, May $1.27-1/2 to $1.28, soybeans were 1/4 lower, May $2.24-1/4, and lard was 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.65.

Estimated receipts of grain in cars here today: wheat 13, corn 95, oats 72, rye none, barley 25, soybeans 11.

Chicago Cash Grain

Chicago, April 23.—(P)—No wheat: Corn No. 3 yellow 1.34-1.38; No. 4, 1.24-1.33; No. 5, 1.11-1.13.

Oats sample grade heavy mixed 71; No. 1 extra heavy white 70-1/2; No. 1 white 73; No. 3 heavy white 75; sample grade heavy white 71-1/2.

Soybeans No. 1 yellow 2.20 track country station (Illinois and Indiana).

Barley malting 1.08-38 nominal; feed 85-1.08 nominal.

Markets at a Glance

New York, April 23.—(P)—Stocks—Higher; leaders in broad advance.

Bonds—Quiet; few raises higher.

Cotton—Firm; activity in nearby deliveries.

Chicago: Wheat—Easy; sold off in late dealings.

Corn—Mixed, but mostly lower.

Oats—Very weak; distant months dropped most.

Soybeans—Easy with grain decline.

Hogs—Nominally steady.

Cattle—Nominally steady.

White Sox Explode With 16 Hits And Whip Browns 12-5

Chicago, April 23.—(P)—The Chicago White Sox unloaded 16 hits against five St. Louis pitchers here today to score their third straight victory by outpointing the Browns, 12-5, before 2,086 persons.

The game produced 27 hits including six home runs, three on each side. Chicagoan Steve Souchock led the homer parade with two round-trippers. Luke Appling also hit one for Chicago.

Jack Graham, Al Zarilla and Les Moss connected for circuit blows for the Browns.

During the Chicago sixth Manager Jack Onslow was chased by Umpire Cal Hubbard for protesting too loud and too long over a decision at third base.

Appling hit his first homer since 1947 to launch the day's scoring with two out in the Chicago first.

Graham cash hit his No. 3 homer for the Browns in the sixth after Zarilla unloaded a two-run tripper in the third. Moss followed with another in the fourth. When Chuck Kokos singled behind Graham's swat, Billy Pierce took over for starter Allen Gettel and went on to score his first 1949 pitching success.

Chicago trailed 5-3 before the White Sox rallied with four runs in the sixth and five more in the seventh. Souchock smashed his second homer to open the first spurt, and Dave Philley clouted a triple with the bases full to highlight the winners' fat seventh.

Catcher Joe Tipton was retired in the second inning with a ball missing from the middle finger of his throwing hand.

Stephens Gets 2 Home Runs; Bosox Beat Yankees 11-3

Boston, April 23.—(P)—Vern Stephens swung a mighty bludgeon today, slugging two home runs and a triple and driving in five tallies for the Boston Red Sox who dented the New York Yankees 11-3 in a battle of bats before 31,367.

It was the first defeat of the infant season for the New Yorkers who had won their first four games. The teams were tied 8-8 from the fifth until the last of the eighth when the Sox scored thrice after the first two men had been retired.

Greene Co. Track, Field Meet May Be Night Event

Carrollton.—The annual Greene county track and field meet, one of the oldest in this part of Illinois, will be held Thursday, April 28, in Roadhouse. Present plans indicate that this will be a night meet if work is completed on the new lights being erected on the Roadhouse field. The meet was originally scheduled for Friday, April 29, but a conflict with the state music contest caused the change.

For the Hawks, Gale Staples, Bob Brannan and Jim Ridings are the present champions. Last year Staples won the pole vault, Brannan the 440 for Eldred and Ridings the low hurdles. Dick Mehrhoff turned in a good performance in the 100 yard and the 220 yards dashes at the Western Military academy. Bill Boe and Dick Standerfield will carry the green and white in the high hurdles. Bob Linn and Tommy Maberry will probably do the broad jumping and Bill Boe and Lynndell Smith are the best so far in the high jump.

Besides the low hurdles Jim Ridings will be throwing the discus and putting the shot. In the discus he will be coupled with Gale Staples. A second man for the shot has not been selected. Jimmy Johnson will probably run with Ridings in the low hurdles.

The second man in the 100 and 220 yard dashes is still a question, with Dale Staples, Tommy Maberry and Bob Brannan as possibilities. Wayne Scroggins and Fred Hartman, assisted by John Darr, Julius Gilbert, Jim Nolan, Bob Langer and Jack Tapp will carry the load in the 880 and mile runs. The freshman relay team will be selected from Jim Johnson, Joe Gilleland, Bob Polles, Delmar Reif, John Darr and Harold Anderson.

During the meeting plans were discussed for attending the club camp at Jacksonville and projects chosen for the year were clothing, yeast breads, foods and music appreciation.

ISD Baseballers Drop PMBC Loop Tilt 20-0

Spike Wilson's previously high-flying I.S.D. baseball team was administered a 20 to 0 shellacking in the hands of Mt. Sterling high school's diamond crew on the Brown county sod Friday afternoon.

The game, which marked the initial PMBC conference set-back handed the local team, was never closely fought after the host nine grabbed a 1-0 lead in the second inning, adding 4 more tallies in the third and scored 7 runs in both the fourth and sixth frames.

Northrup, Mt. Sterling hurler, was in top form throughout the seven inning session. He allowed only four Tiger batters to hit safely, while fanning 14 of the local representatives.

Eddy Raffel, who started the contest for the Wilsonmen, was lifted in the fourth stanza in favor of Alta Hood. The two Jacksonville chuckers kept the 14 Mt. Sterling hits fairly well scattered but I.S.D. errors in the field played a major role in the defeat. Raffel also proved to be very wild in the opening innings.

I.S.D. journeies to Chapin Tuesday afternoon and will tangle with Paul Stroud's Routt nine on their own field Thursday to wind up league play. They now own a 4-1 record in loop competition.

Groth Scores In 10th, Gives Tigers Win Over Indians

Cleveland, April 23.—(P)—Prince Hal Newhouse pitched effectively in the clutch today and Johnny Groth scored the winning run as the Detroit Tigers beat the Cleveland Indians 5 to 4 in 10 innings here today.

It was the second 10-inning affair in a row between the two clubs. The Tigers scored the winning counter when rookie sensation Groth raced all the way from first base, beating Thurman Tucker fumbled. Bob Swift's long single to left field, including home runs by Joe Gordon and Ken Keltner, but was effective in the tight spots, leaving 11 of the world champions stranded. It was his second victory of the season.

Early Wynn gave up 11 hits in the seven innings he worked.

The 51st Greene County meet will be held at the Roadhouse field Thursday, April 28. Carrollton is the defending champs and are favored to repeat this year. Brannan, Staples, Boe and Mehrhoff are the point makers for the Hawks and Ridings gets his share of points in his events this year for Coach Clarence Bradley at the County seat school.

The 21st Annual Ivy track and field meet will be held at the Roadhouse high field May 6 at night for the first time in the history of the conference. Several fine marks are threatened in this popular meet and the pole vault and shot put are the two records that might be broken this year.

Fans will get to see a fine meet at Jacksonville April 30 with the running of the 12th Annual Central conference meet with the Feisthans Flyers of Springfield the defending champs. Coach Barniskis has another fine track team and they are favored to cop the 1949 laurels. The teams entered in this meet are Peitshans, Lanphier, Carlinville, Clinton, Beardstown and Jacksonville.

Giants Slug Out 11 To 3 Victory Over Braves

New York, April 23.—(P)—Mickey Livingston strengthened his bid to become the New York Giants' first string catcher today by driving home four runs to lead the Giants to an 11-3 victory over the Boston Braves.

Livingston belted a two-run homer and two singles in the Giants' 16 hit attack against five Boston pitchers.

Young Monte Kennedy went the distance for the Giants, yielding ten hits.

Seventh Inning Rally Gives Cubs 11-7 Win Over St. Louis Rivals

St. Louis, April 23.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs pounded across eight runs in the seventh inning to whip the St. Louis Cardinals, 11 to 7, in the National League's first night game of the season before 22,000 fans tonight.

What started out to be a close pitching duel between two thirty-year-old right-handers, rookie Dewey Adkins of Los Angeles and veteran Red Munger, broke wide open in the sixth. Andy Pafo doubled two runs across and scored on Halp Jeffcoat's single.

The Cards promptly batted Adkins from the hill in their half, home runs by Red Schoendienst, Stan Musial and Nippy Jones, the latter's with two on base, according for five runs.

Then the Cubs went to town again in the seventh, this time against Ted Wilks and Nippy Jones, the latter's with two on base, according for five runs.

A three-run homer by Bob Scheffing and a two-run double by Benjamins Lowrey highlighted the eighth-run inning. A wild throw by Wilks on a sacrifice bunt contributed to his downfall and made him the losing pitcher. Bob Chipman protected the Cub lead and became the winning pitcher.

Commission Asks Small Schools Not Get State Money

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—(P)—A special schools advisory commission to the governor recommended today that state financial aid be denied in the future to public school districts "too small to be efficient."

The commission, appointed last month by Governor Stevenson to make suggestions on state school grants, said such grants should be used "to achieve sound structural organization of the school system."

In a report to the governor, the advisory group also made other basic recommendations to improve the public education program:

1. As an ultimate objective, school districts with a minimum population of 5,000 and elementary enrollment of 700 and high school enrollment of 300.
2. Freezing of flat grants per pupil at present levels and ultimate curtailment or elimination of flat grants. These payments now are $22 for each elementary and $7 for each high school student.

Report Proof That Russia Is Helping China Communists

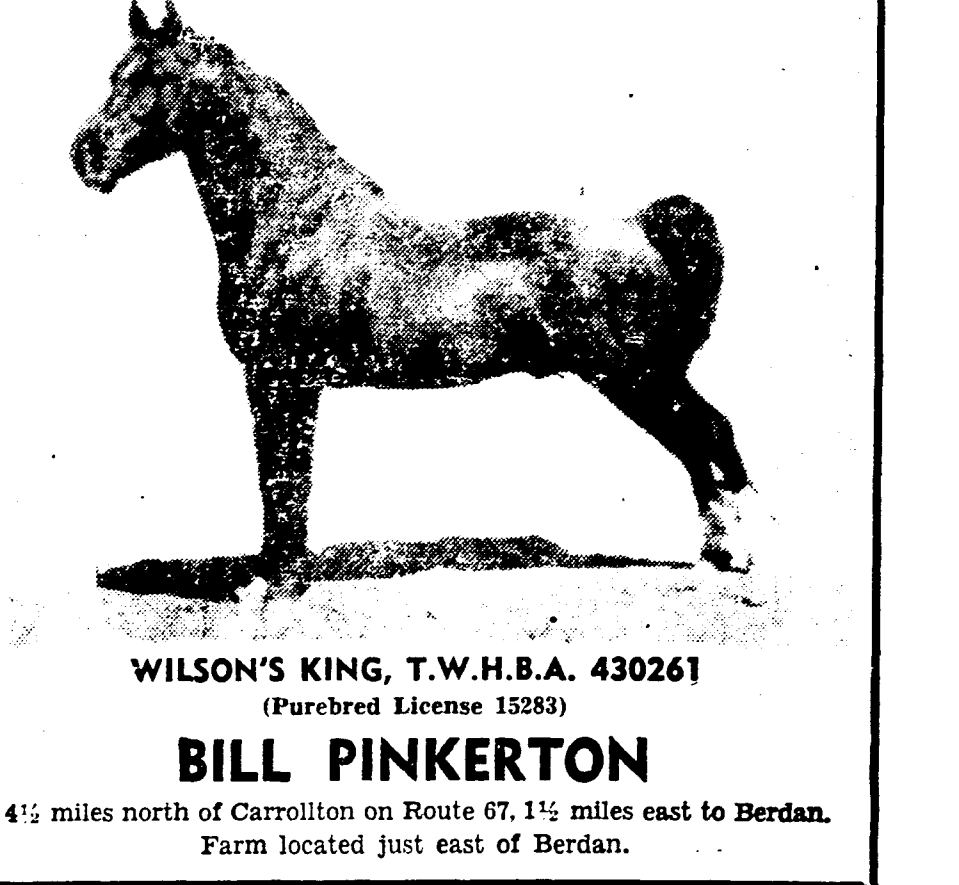

Lake Success, April 23.—(P)—Britain's intelligence service was reported today to have received copies of captured orders and papers showing the Soviet Union is aiding the Chinese communists.

A British source who would not permit identification said these papers showed clear coordination between the Moscow government and the Chinese communists. He gave no details.

The Chinese delegation to the United Nations heard these reports with interest. There was no official word of any course of action, but some U. N. sources said if the documents were backed with sufficient evidence they could be the basis for a complaint by the Chinese national government against Soviet Russia in the U. N. Security Council.

The Chinese delegation held an extraordinary caucus today at which the reports were discussed. There was no sign, however, of any change in the policy of "wait and see" adopted by the delegation.

Mugs With A Purpose

Men of by-gone days were just as quick to latch on to smart ways of advertising as are the businessmen of today. One of the most popular ways in the day when no "big shot" was without his own shaving mug, was to have a picture representing his business on his mug.

An example of this mode of advertising is shown by Ralph Butler, Modesto barber, who holds a mug of today. One of the most popular belonging to Buck Campbell, former ways in the day when no "big shot" was without his own shaving mug, was to have a picture representing his business on his mug.

Each mug bore the name of the owner and often an insignia of some club or organization. Some of the sharper customers had pictures representing their profession or business establishment on the mugs. This proved to be a very effective form of advertising and it paid off to have your mug seen in the town's most exclusive barbershop.

In those days, a barbershop was more than just a place to get a shave and haircut. It was the meeting place for the men of the community, the center of masculine activities. Friendships were won and lost in the barbershops and many hot and furious discussions took place there.

Many a customer, not in agreement with the turn the discussion was taking, would storm out of the shop, intent on taking his mug elsewhere.

Diplomacy a Necessity
A barber had to be as deft in the art of diplomacy as in the art of wielding a pair of scissors skillfully.

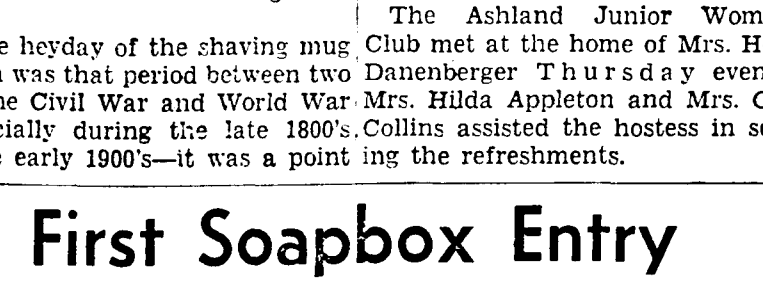

The art of shaving mugs was drawing its last breath when the sanitary barbering laws came into effect in 1909, more or less eliminating the need for privately-owned mugs.

Its death marked the passing of a by-gone era, of which the shaving mug had been one of the important symbols.

ASHLAND JUNIOR WOMEN MEET
The Ashland Junior Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Helen Danenberger Thursday evening.

Mrs. Hilda Appleton and Mrs. Opal Collins assisted the hostess in serving the refreshments.

First Soapbox Entry

Gary Mullen, 13 year old David Prince student, was the first boy in the Jacksonville trade area to sign up for the big annual Soapbox Derby. He's shown affixing his name to the dotted line, while Frank Goin of the Cornbelt Chevrolet company waits to hand him a copy of the 1949 Soapbox Derby rule book.

Gary was a contender in last year's competition. He won one race, lost in the second.

Like many other boys, Gary has found that planning and building the derby car is as much fun as racing.

This year his car is going to be much narrower than his 1948 model. He feels that a wide base definitely decreases speed.

All boys interested in the 1949 classic are invited to see a special movie on the subject to be shown at 7 p.m. Monday in the banquet room of the Dunlap hotel. The film will be on last year's finals at Akron, Ohio, in which John English, winner of the local contest, was a contestant.

The movie will be shown at the regular meeting of the Exchange club, one of the sponsoring agencies of the Jacksonville contest.

Cancer Fund Drive Enters Final Week; Total Now $2,575

State's Attorney Albert W. Hall, local chairman of the drive for funds for the American Cancer Society has announced that total receipts now amount to $2,575. With the campaign entering its final week, all persons wishing to contribute are asked to mail their donations to the drive headquarters at the Dunlap hotel.

Contributions received yesterday include $25 from the Farmers State bank; $21 from the Morgan County Public Assistance office; $25 from the Chapin State bank; $24 from the Business and Professional Woman's club; $10 from the Kiwanis club; and $10 from the Jacksonville police force.

Rebekahs Observe Brothers Night Here Thursday

Rebekahs from Springfield, Winchester, Meredosia and Jacksonville, comprising a group more than 100 strong, assembled in the IOOF Hall on West State street Thursday evening to observe Brothers Night, sponsored by the local Caritas Rebekah Lodge 625.

The following brothers filled the various offices—Noble Grand, H. L. Hutches; Vice Grand, Louis Katz; recording secretary, Homer Harrison; financial secretary, James Rice; treasurer, J. W. Marshall; conductor, Wayne Wollridge; warden, Austin Cockerill; inside guardian, Kenneth Walker, outside guardian, Carl Riemann; right supporter of N. G. Albert Phillips; left supporter of N. G. Bernard Conness, right and left supporters of the vice noble grand were Raymond Reeve and S. C. Sykes, Past Noble Grand, James Smith; chaplain, Isaac Reeve; musician, James Barry.

A one-act comedy, "Monkey Shines in a Doctor's Office," was presented by the brothers.

Refreshments and a social hour concluded the evening.

Local Cigarmakers Plan Formation Of Dinner Club

Former and present cigarmakers are planning the formation of a club in this city. The organization meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, May 3rd at the Dunlap Hotel.

An organization committee has been appointed composed of Walter Smith, Daniel Bahr, James J. Lonergan, John McCarty and John A. Weller.

It is estimated there are approximately 35 ex-cigar makers in Jacksonville in addition to several who are still following the trade.

After the club is organized it is planned to hold at least one dinner meeting each month.

All cigarmakers who wish to join the organization are asked to contact a member of the committee.

Virginia Legion Closes Membership Drive With Dinner

Virginia—With the County American Legion meeting held in Beardstown Wednesday, the local post brought to a close the membership drive which was started a month ago. The two teams were captained by James Frisch and Richard Jumper. The latter side won by 21 points.

At stake was a stag party which the losing side is to sponsor and also a meal, the date is to be decided at a later date.

Both captains wish to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped make this drive a success.

Observe Last Rites Saturday For Murder Victim; Case Unsolved

Jerseyville—Funeral services for Howard Albert Heining were held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Jacoby Brothers Funeral Chapel. The Rev. Dale Harmon, pastor of the Jerseyville Methodist church, officiated.

Following the service here the body was taken to Murphysboro where services will be held Sunday afternoon at the Centenary Methodist church. Interment will be at Pleasant Grove cemetery there.

The body of Heining was found about 6 p. m. Thursday in a seldom frequented area three miles east of the old Mid City Site on Federal Highway 67, and about ten miles northeast of Jerseyville. Heining had been shot to death in a field about one hundred and fifty feet from the spot where the car was parked on the country highway.

Heining was reported missing early Thursday morning when he failed to return to his home in Jerseyville following a trip to Carrollton.

Teacher Finds Auto
Wesley Carpunky, Carrollton Metropolitan agent, reported that Heining left his place about 2 p. m. He was driving a black Fleetline, 1948 model Chevrolet. The car was observed Thursday evening standing at the side of the country highway by Richard Tendick, who teaches school in Greene county. Tendick reported seeing the car answering the description of the one driven by Heining and returned to the area with Harold Ballard, Fred Ballard and state highway police officer Wilson Schultz.

They began a search of the locality and came upon the body of Heining about 150 feet from where his car was standing.

Sheriff Arthur Powell of Greene county and Coroner William Wolff were notified and went to the site of the slaying. The body was removed to Jacoby Brothers Funeral Home in Jerseyville, where extensive investigation into the condition of the body was made by officers and members of the Illinois Bureau of Criminal Investigation of Springfield.

Shot in the Back
It was ascertained that Heining had been shot either while being marched ahead of his slayer or when he had taken flight in an effort to escape. Two bullets had penetrated his coat sleeves and one had entered the back at the left side and struck the heart.

Heining had then been shot three times as he evidently lay struggling on the ground. The last three shots had been in the abdomen and ranged at an angle. A postmortem was made here Thursday night and a specimen of the bullet fired by the slayer was obtained and sent to Springfield for ballistics checking.

The car of Heining was towed from the place where it was found at the roadside to a Carrollton garage. Finger prints were taken from the vehicle Friday morning by experts affiliated with the Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

County officers and state highway police began a routine checkup of various leads and reports that might have any bearing on establishing the identity of the slayer.

No Known Enemies
Members of Heining's family could not recall his having any enemies. His father, Fred Heining, and brother, Fred E. Heining, of Murphysboro and his father-in-law, C. C. Culley, of Carbondale, came to Jerseyville Friday morning where they conferred with local and state officials conducting the investigation.

The motive for the slaying has not been established. A billfold containing a small sum of money was removed by the killer. It was ascertained that Heining did not carry any of the money collected for the insurance company. Another unique situation was the fact the brief case of Heining was found in a position near the body where it had evidently been thrown by the killer. His hat had also been tossed toward him and had alighted on his feet.

World War II Veteran
Heining was a veteran of World War II. He was born August 20, 1915 at Murphysboro. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Heining, three children, Judy Ann, Richard and Gary; his father, Fred Heining, and stepmother of Murphysboro; two brothers, Lewis of Carbondale and Edward of Murphysboro; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Davis of Carbondale and Mrs. Marguerite Reason of LaGrange, Illinois.

Authorities established Friday that the slaying must have occurred prior to 4 p. m. Wednesday as several witnesses have been found who reported passing the place where the car was backed into the barbed wire fence at the roadside. These witnesses had passed the locality between 3:30 and 4 o'clock that afternoon.

A former Jacksonville resident, W. "Bill" Eddings, died suddenly Saturday morning at his home 340 Buena Vista, San Jose, Calif., according to a telegram received by his sister, Mrs. Paul Joaquin, 616 West College avenue.

Mrs. Eddings was well known in Jacksonville having resided here for about 20 years before going to California two and a half years ago.

He was born at Winchester, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Eddings. He received his education in the Winchester schools. Mr. Eddings is survived by his widow and one sister, Mrs. Joaquin.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Naomi Fiedler, William Dotzert Wed Recently

Virginia — Miss Naomi Fiedler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fiedler and Mr. Dotzert, son of Mrs. Henry Dotzert, of near this city, were married Sunday afternoon in a double ring ceremony at the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church in Bluff Springs.

The Rev. R. E. Aden, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony at 3 o'clock.

The couple was attended by Miss Martha Dotzert, sister of the bridegroom, and Kenneth Fiedler, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a gray tailored suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The bride graduated from Beardstown high school and taught school for several years.

Mr. Dotzert is a veteran of World War II. He served 38 months in the army, stationed in Africa, England, Sicily, France, Belgium, and Germany and received his honorable discharge July 1, 1945. He is now engaged in farming.

A reception for 41 relatives and friends was held at 6:30 p.m. at the home of the bride's parents. The centerpiece of the table was a three-tiered wedding cake.

The couple will reside on a farm north of Shiloh church in the Union neighborhood.
